Project Management

from Symbiotic Projects

Project Management is a concept and a system that has been in existence for as long as people have organised themselves into groups to perform specific tasks. Naturally, the development of modern Project Management techniques has allowed for a greater measure of success in achieving the aims of projects. These aims can generally be summarised as the delivery of change in the planned time to the agreed costs. SPL's Project Management services are designed to give you the control that you need to maximise the probability of implementing a successful project – and in a flexible, cost-effective manner.

First class
training achieves
optimum results

All of SPL's Project Managers are trained in Project Management best practice, such as Prince 2, ITIL and APM. Training is reviewed on a regular basis to ensure that skills are up-to-date and relevant – and at SPL, we pride ourselves on providing our staff with exemplary training and development, with the aim of enhancing their capabilities so that they can provide the highest levels of service.

Project controls, such as Planning & Scheduling, Resource Management, Risk & Issue Management, the Management of Change and Reporting are the foundation of our PRINCE2-based methodology. However, our Project Managers always appreciate the needs of individuals who are impacted by such change.

A tailor-made approach –
delivering major
benefits

Unlike many other suppliers, SPL provides Project Management services that offer you a unique and effective commercial solution to the challenges of implementing change. Most Project Management organisations expect the client to engage Professional Services resources on a full-time basis for a period of months or even years – though this often results in unnecessary costs to the client. However, whilst we are happy to meet such fixed-term engagements, our Project Managers can be engaged from days and weeks to months or years – and our flexible approach allows for a tailor-made service that delivers substantial financial and other benefits to our valued clients.
